Combine Is Planned to Beat McAdoo

BUT MOVEMENT SEEMS TO MAKE LITTLE HEADWAY

Lack of Progress Is Ascribed to Absence of Central Control and the Feeling That Movement Is in Part Against Wilson.

PALMER AND COX MEN ASKING TO BE SHOWN

They Laugh at Idea Of Deserting Their Favorites Until It Develops That They Cannot Win. All State Delegations Being Canvassed.

San Francisco, July 1.—The attempt at a combination against the nomination of William G. McAdoo was still being carried on when the convention went into its night session, but it still was without any definite result.

Lack of headway was ascribed to the absence of central control and to the feeling among many of those importuned to join that it was really directed against President Wilson, rather than wholly a movement against McAdoo. That feeling, his managers agreed, was its weakness.

Another real difficulty was that many of the supporters of candidates having enthusiastic followings, chiefly Palmer and Cox, argued that they should not be asked to desert their candidates until it had been developed whether they can gain strength. In these camps were scattering delegates who preferred McAdoo to any dark horse. The promoters of the attempted combination against McAdoo were proceeding desultorily and one after another they continued to bring forward such names as former Speaker Clark, Vice President Marshall, Homer S. Cummings, Bainbridge Colby and even William Jennings Bryan.

Cox-Palmer Men Laugh.

Clearly and admittedly there was no name about which they could rally. The Cox and Palmer leaders laughed at the idea of "wrapping off" at so early a stage and asserted it had not been demonstrated that Mr. McAdoo commanded a place in the running to cause them to fear him—it was with them plainly a case of waiting to be shown.

While the real leaders were dealing with the platform discussion of those who for one reason or another opposed McAdoo, Palmer and Cox kept up their informal conference.

Many contended that a few ballots would easily show the impossibility of nominating either Palmer or Cox, and the bitter administration opponents warned delay in effecting a program might bring them to the issue at a time too late to defeat McAdoo. Delegates with out pronounced convictions embarrassed these leaders by demanding to know why it was that a combination was necessary.

Some Law Men.

In many instances they forced the admission that the principal argument why they thought Mr. McAdoo should not be nominated was that he was the son-in-law of the president. The administration was clearly in control of the convention, and this explanation clearly was unpopular in many quarters on that account.

All factions have been canvassing the state delegations to determine the actual strength for each of the leading candidates. The returns do not agree, but the nearest to an impartial estimate obtainable showed that on the first ballot the strength of Palmer would be about 275, and McAdoo following with 274, and Cox in third place with 160. This left 411 delegates scattered among the other eleven candidates placed in nomination.

OPPOSITIONS FAIL TO AGREE ON MAN AGAINST M'ADOO

By ROBERT J. REYDER.

United News Staff Correspondent.

San Francisco, July 1.—W. G. McAdoo's strength before the democratic convention as a candidate for the presidential nomination was augmented Thursday by failure by his opponents to agree on a man to oppose him.

For two days and three nights now the anti-McAdoo leaders have conferred in the desperate attempt to arrive at a constructive program they can throw their strength to, after driving the convention to a deadlock. Such tactics they believe

EXORBITANT RENT CHARGES SCORED AT BIG MEETING

Storm of Cat Calls and Hisses Greets Dr. Horace Grant's Effort to Defend Proprietors.

ANTI "RENT-HOG" BILL APPROVED BY MEETING

Representatives in Attendance at Auditorium at Gathering From Many Georgia Cities.

Biting denunciation of "rent-hogs" and plans for systematic campaigning for legislation aimed at reduction of rent rates in the state of Georgia were the features of the mass meeting held Thursday night as an open protest against the alleged exorbitant returns claimed for property owners of the state. The main floor of the Auditorium was completely filled, with a sizable run-over into the galleries, giving rise to the estimate that 2,500 Atlantians and Georgians attended the gathering, fostered by John A. Manget, state fair price commissioner.

A storm of cat-calls and hisses broke into the quiet procedure of speeches when Dr. Horace Grant, well-known Atlantian, rose from the audience and requested proof of the statements which had been made. He stated that the advertisements of the meeting had promised thousands of pieces of signature and a list of names, but that he had not seen a single one. His attempts to continue were interrupted by a loud chorus of jeers. His objections were replied to by B. Lee Smith, who stated that all claims made in advertisements could be backed up with actual proof.

Reads Widow's Letter.

Various instances of extortionate rents were claimed and cited by those present, notable among them the charge made by J. C. Austin, attorney for the fair price board, in his introductory remarks, that the man of the meeting, Mr. Austin read to the assembly a letter which he said was from an Atlanta widow, with no means of support except a small income.

"This good lady is now paying $15.00 monthly for two rooms and a kitchen," he said. "She has received notice that her rent will advance September 1 to $20.00. There are fourteen apartments in the house in which she lives, each bringing the same high rental with regard to local income from the apartment of $10.00."

Mr. Austin said that upon receipt of this letter he went to see what the property was assessed at on the tax books and found it valued at $100.00. "In two years the income from the property will give the landlord's valuation on the property, with more than $1,000 to spare."

Many of the speakers spoke of instances where they claimed rental had been advanced from 200 to 300 per cent within six months. Delegations from Savannah and Macon were in attendance on the meeting, and men from each of these cities addressed the meeting, stating that conditions in their cities were as oppressive as those claimed at Atlanta, and that the entire state of Georgia was suffering from the grasping, avaricious landlords.

Praises Some Landlords.

Mr. Manget, in a short talk to the body, said that the purpose of the meeting was not to abuse, and that any one with that opinion was in error. He said that all landlords were not grasping, taking advantage of the acute housing situation and practicing extortion, but that he thanked God there were hundreds who were not raising their rents in excess of their normal right. He also said that the people were willing to grant the landlord a reasonable and just profit, and that no landlord who was honest would object to a piece of legislation aimed at those who were manifestly practicing dishonesty in their greed for gain.

An appeal to the members of the legislature present at the session was made by Rev. John S. Wilder, a Baptist minister of Savannah, who attended the meeting in company with the delegation from the south Georgia city, headed by Dr. G. T. Pate, chairman of council, official representative of Mayor Murray Stewart.

Captain Rhea Crawford, of the Salvation Army, told of a young Atlantian who had been carried to Grady hospital with a self-inflicted wound in the head. "In his pockets were found itemized accounts, expenses and income, each month the expense overshadowing the income."

Palmer Will Lead On the First Ballot With McAdoo Second

It Will Be the Policy of McAdoo's Managers, However, to Conceal Real Strength at First.

M'ADOO BEING OPPOSED BY THE STATE LEADERS

And It Is Not Certain That Real Administration Leaders Are for McAdoo—If Deadlock Results, John W. Davis May Be Named.

By Mark Sullivan. (Copyright, 1290.)

San Francisco, July 1.—Within twenty-four hours and probably within twelve hours of the balloting, there is the way the situation stands.

Palmer should lead on the first ballot. He should have about 280 votes. Next to him will come McAdoo. It is less easy to predict McAdoo's strength on the first ballot accurately, because strategy clearly calls on the McAdoo managers to conceal some of their strength at the beginning. However, McAdoo should have on the first ballot as many as 230 votes. Cox should have almost as many. All the rest of the votes will be distributed among the favorite sons and minor candidates, with New York giving its big delegation to its governor, Indiana to its governor, Oklahoma to its governor, and so on. These figures become out-of-date between now and the balloting it will be because of the growth of McAdoo's strength.

After the First Ballot.

After the first ballot, if Palmer continues to gain, that fact will not be significant. Every competent observer here believes that Palmer will reach his peak in one of the very early ballots and will thereafter decline. Thereupon the convention should crystallize for a time into a tug-of-war between two groups which may be loosely designated as the state leader group and the administration group. I emphasize the fact that these terms are chosen largely for convenience. Lines are so cross-crossed that the "state leader group" and "administration group" do not mean much except as convenient designations.

The state leader group will be against McAdoo—but when you come to saying whom the administration group will be for, there arises the necessity for explanation, already emphasized in the dispatches. It is true that the beginning McAdoo will seem to be the candidate of the administration group, but it is also true that there is a small army of officeholders and ex-officeholders here working for McAdoo. But the conspicuous fact, which is extremely puzzling to understand, is that the administration of a theory which will be stated later, is that this group of officeholders and ex-officeholders working for McAdoo does not include the really big administration leaders, members of the cabinet and the like, who in other respects are carrying out the administration. Where?

McAdoo and Administration.

McAdoo, in the beginning ballots, can be loosely described as the candidate for the administration group, but it is also true that there is a small army of officeholders and ex-officeholders here working for McAdoo. But the conspicuous fact, which is extremely puzzling to understand, is that the administration of a theory which will be stated later, is that this group of officeholders and ex-officeholders working for McAdoo does not include the really big administration leaders, members of the cabinet and the like, who in other respects are carrying out the administration. Petition Filed in Fulton County Superior Court Thursday Morning by Victor-Monaghan Mills.

By Tom Connor.

Just as was to be expected, the resolution offered by Senators Duncan, of the thirty-sixth, and Raggsdale, of the thirty-eighth, deploring the action of the majority of the May convention held in Atlanta, endorsing the San Francisco convention and pledging loyal support to its platform and nominees, threw a bombshell into the Georgia legislative session. In the natural order of business, the resolution was to have come up Thursday for action. It was the topic of discussion with senators all the morning, while they more or less mechanically went through the business of the day and acted on a number of bills.

The petition alleges that the Southern Express company is a Georgia corporation, established in 1886, and operating in several states. It alleges that in June, 1918, the Southern Express company entered into a conspiracy with the American Railway Express company to transfer all its assets and accept in lieu thereof the equivalent of the value of the assets in stock of the American Railway Express company.

The petition further prays that the receiver be permitted to investigate the books of the Southern Express company and determine whether or not the stock of the American Railway Express company in lieu of transferred assets in order that suits may be filed against them.

ANOTHER BIG FIGHT OVER THE IRISH PLANK

Committee Adopts Plank That Doesn't Suit the Friends of Ireland—Wilson Forces Willing to Accept the Amended League Plank.

San Francisco, July 1.—Furious warfare over the prohibition plank began late today in the platform committee of the democratic national convention, with every prospect that it would be carried over to the convention floor, no matter what the committee finally should decide.

While the convention waited for the committee's work to be completed, wet and dry were locked in a struggle which some members thought it might take hours to terminate.

Leaving the subject until last because it was most troublesome of all, the committee had made its decision on the Irish question and the league of nations and had cleared away all of the lesser controversies delaying its report.

But so long as prohibition remained in dispute, committee members argued that their troubles were far from over.

Aside from the wet and dry issue, the biggest fight of the day centered in the Irish plank. Overruling its subcommittee, the committee threw out the administration plank proposing to leave the Irish problem to the league of nations and adopted in its stead a declaration of sympathy and a pledge to take whatever diplomatic action would be in consonance with international comity.

To Take Fight to Floor.

At the same time in an adjoining room the caucus laid plans for carrying its fight to the convention floor.

But while prospects for floor fights on prohibition and the Irish problem were increasing, all likelihood that the league of nations also would be a subject of open hostilities virtually disappeared. The work of the administration chiefs here were content to let the league plank stand as it was when it emerged from last night's stormy committee meeting.

Platform Committee Is Still Fighting Over Prohibition Plank and the Convention Is Marking Time.

STRUGGLE IS EXPECTED ON CONVENTION FLOOR

Bryan Will Speak for the "Drys" and Wilson's Secretary of State, Bainbridge Colby, Will Speak for "Wets"—There Is Also Trouble About Ireland.

Auditorium, San Francisco, July 1.

After a futile night session given over principally to wait for the wet and dry fight to come off the democratic national convention finally found the platform committee unable to report and without prospects of making a report before tomorrow morning. It adjourned at 10:35 o'clock until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

While the convention marked time down in the big hall, tucked away in one corner of the big building the platform committee continued its efforts to harmonize its report. After practically closing up for question once, the committee decided to give William Jennings Bryan another opportunity to present prohibition plank.

At 10:15 Mr. Bryan made such headway with his arguments that the committee, which it was thought, would soon make its report with a majority determined to leave the prohibition issue of the document, found itself unable to make report at all.

Formerly Chairman Robinson had a conference with Senator Glass of the resolutions committee, and it was finally announced that there was little prospect of the committee being ready to make its report before tomorrow morning.

Amid yells of disappointment from a record-breaking crowd which called for "Bryan, Bryan, Bryan," and "We want to hear Bryan," the convention adjourned until tomorrow morning. The prospects were said to be that the resolutions committee would work all night.

Bryan and Colby.

The resolutions committee, unable to settle the prohibition issue, had finally decided to let it come to the floor, and agreed on a program which provided for one speaker on each side. William J. Bryan, of course, was to speak for a prohibition plank, and Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state and an administration leader, was to take the other side of the argument.

With the hope of hearing the committee report at 8 o'clock, the convention assembled at that hour and the big auditorium was packed from floor to roof with a record crowd. Mr. Bryan championing his favorite cause and expecting to see the fireworks of the wet and dry fight. Postponement followed postponement, however, and while the throng was entertained with band music, singing and selections.

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN FOR 500,000 CITY

Movement Will Be Formally Put Under Way at Independence Day Celebration at Lakewood

Atlanta's big campaign for a half-million population by 1930, will be formally launched at the big Independence day celebration that is to be held Monday at Lakewood park, according to a plan perfected Thursday.

The backers of the movement have chosen the occasion of the big patriotic celebration at the popular resort because of the fact that an unprecedented gathering of more than 20,000 people is expected on that day. It is believed that it will prove to be the most memorable civic event in the history of the city. The program that has been planned for the launching of the Atlanta 500,000 campaign includes addresses by popular orators, magnificent pyrotechnical displays, athletic contests, horse races and speed demonstrations by dare-devil motorcyclists. These pleasures and thrills will be added to by the feast that will be enjoyed by many merry picnic parties.

Stores Will Close.

The close of the day will be made glorious by the blazing lights of the various attractions upon the grounds, the music of bands and the wonderful display of fireworks.

Catching the spirit of the occasion, every department store head in the city has fallen into line upon an agreement to close up shop and give shoppers and employees an opportunity to be at Lakewood on Independence day.

These ceremonies will begin at 11:30 o'clock Monday morning, at the east end of the plaza, when Colonel Eddy and troops from Camp Jessup will raise the garrison standard in commemoration of American independence.

At noon the Southeastern Fair association will be host to Governor Dorsey, Mayor Key and others in the restaurant of Ruse & Cason, on the grounds. Following the luncheon, the celebration exercises will begin on the plaza. Governor Hugh Dorsey will be introduced to the gathering by W. D. Ellis, Jr., Governor Dorsey will make an address, after which Mayor Key, presented by Eugene R. Black, president of the chamber of commerce, will also speak. After Mayor Key's talk, the stone marker, typifying Atlanta's purpose for the next ten years, will be unveiled by Mrs. Irving Thomas, president of the Atlanta Woman's club. Inscribed upon this marker are the words:

"ATLANTA
500,000 in 1930.
A City Which Honors Its People and Whose People Honor It."

Committee in Charge.

The celebration proper will begin Saturday with trotting, pacing and running races Saturday afternoon and fireworks Saturday night. There will be more horse contests Monday and, in addition, four motorcycle races and fireworks.

Several good purses have been offered, and many entries have been assured for each event.

BATTLE IS WAGED OVER GOOD ROADS FUND OF GEORGIA

Defeated in Committee, Knight Threatens to Take Fight for Immediate Distribution of $1,800,000 to House.

CHAIRMAN CARSWELL CASTS DECIDING VOTE

Representative Knight
Tries to Get Action
Without Giving Highway Board Chance to Be Heard.

A resolution introduced Thursday afternoon before the appropriations committee of the house, which sought to bring about the immediate distribution of the $1,800,000 motor vehicle fund now in the state treasury, was lost in the committee, and a spirited fight resulted in which an attack was made upon the highway commission, and threats were made by Representative Knight, author of the measure, to take the fight to the floor of the house.

Representative Knight, when his measure was lost, asked permission to withdraw the resolution, and when this was refused by the committee, he declared that he would take the matter up on the floor of the house, where he claimed 127 members of that body would stand behind him in his effort to cause the immediate distribution of the motor vehicle fund.

The vote killing the Knight resolution was a tie, 6 to 6, Chairman Carswell casting the tying vote. Mr. Carswell also cast the vote that tied and defeated a motion later to reconsider.

Next Again Tuesday.

The final action of the committee was to meet again next Tuesday afternoon, when, in addition to hearing from Chairman C. N. Strahan, of the highway commission, information from other sources relative to the highway fund will be sought by the members of the committee.

Mr. Knight's resolution provided that the funds paid in through the operation of the motor vehicle law, which amount to $1,800,000 in round numbers, should be immediately distributed to the various counties, after 15 per cent had been deducted for the expenses of the highway commission. It was also provided that the money should be given to the counties in amounts proportioned according to post road mileage, and that it should be expended by ordinaries and county commissions under the supervision of the state highway commission. This he declared was necessary because of the clamor in various counties for the money, which he said should be in the treasury. He further said that unless this money was distributed the proposed bond issue for good roads would be defeated.

Chairman George Carswell, of Wilkinson, opposed favorable action on the resolution in the interest of harmony, and because, he declared, the highway commission had, under a ruling of the attorney general, not only expended about $199,000 of the motor vehicle fund on road improvements, but had, as he understood, also contracted for the expenditure of a large sum of it. The highway commission, which he declared had acted within its rights, under the ruling of the attorney general, should be heard from before action was taken that would appropriate money not in the treasury. He said that the highway commission should not be embarrassed by any action on the part of the appropriations committee without being allowed an opportunity to be heard.

Asks Hearing From Strahan.

At this point, Representative Arnold, of Clay, suggested that Chairman C. N. Strahan, of the highway commission, be asked to meet with the committee and explain the situation. This suggestion was followed by a motion by Representative Rogers, of Elbert, to name a subcommittee to meet with members of the highway commission and map out a program. Another motion following quickly, was from Representative Arnold, who moved that action on the resolution be deferred until the chairman of the highway commission could be heard from.

Before action could be taken upon either of the above motions, Representative Stewart, of Coffee, arose and expressed surprise at a statement previously made by Chairman Carswell that the highway commission had expended a certain portion of the motor vehicle fund, and contracted for the expenditure of a larger amount. "If any of the officials of the state have expended this money without authority, and not under the provisions of the highway act, they have violated the law and the legislature ought to know it," said he.

Here Representative Arnold said: "In view of the fact that this is an attack upon the highway commission, in a way, shouldn't we give these gentlemen a chance to be heard?"

This brought from Representative Knight the emphatic statement that he did not wish any delay upon his resolution, and said that unless immediate action was taken he wished to withdraw the measure. "I put you on notice," said he, "that I want action at once upon this matter, and unless it is straightened out, I will fight bonds unless this is straightened out. I have 127 men in the house who will support me in this fight."

Arnold: "Does the gentleman mean to say that he will withdraw his resolution simply because this committee wishes more information before taking action upon this important matter?"

Does Not Want Information.

Knight: "If Strahan can't follow the law; if the governor can't appoint Georgians who will comply with the terms of the act, I don't want any more information. If he has spent more than $199,000 of this money I want to know how he got it out of the banks! The people are going to hold us responsible for this! Trust us! Here Chairman Carswell explained that he did not wish to vote, but that he felt it to be his duty to cast a vote, making a tie and killing the resolution. A motion was then made by Representative Knight to take the matter up next Tuesday, and to invite Chairman Strahan to be present. It Representative Knight strenuously objected to this and asked for permission to withdraw his measure.

"You had better not try to ram things down the throat of this committee," exclaimed Representative Arnold. "We can have whom we please before this body, especially a state house officer! We are not going to stand for threats, and so far as I am concerned you can take the matter to the legislature."

Knight Attacks Arnold.

Representative Williams offered here a substitute motion for all motions that had been made. Moving that the committee recommend that the resolution do pass. When put to a vote there were six votes for and five against. Representative Carswell explained that he did not wish to vote, but that he felt it to be his duty to cast a vote, making a tie and killing the resolution. A motion was then made by Representative Knight to take the matter up next Tuesday, and to invite Chairman Strahan to be present. the house for passage, and he was ruled out of order by the chair. This was followed by a motion to reconsider, which resulted in a vote of 8 for and 7 against, the chairman, George Carswell, again casting the vote that brought about a tie in the matter.

The motion to meet again next Tuesday, and to hear the chairman of the highway commission, prevailed, and the committee adjourned.

After adjournment Representative Knight again asked that his paper be returned to him and upon returning again he intended to take the fight to the floor of the house, where it is expected an effort will be made by him to struggle the matter out before the members of the lower branch. It is not known, however, just how he will proceed to get the matter before the house.

The appropriations committee Thursday afternoon recommended for passage two pension measures involving a half million dollars. One of these measures, carrying an appropriation of $475,000, was to provide funds for the payment of pensions authorized by an act of the last legislature, in which the payment of pensions to many women, widows of Confederate soldiers, was authorized.

The other measure was a deficiency bill, providing for the payments of pensions to veterans who have been paid by the law but who have not been paid because of the fact that no money had been appropriated in to cover these cases. This measure carried an appropriation of $25,000.

The committee also reported favorably a bill for $12,500 to meet the increase in the salaries of the railroad commissioners, which was authorized by the legislature last session.

14 Candidates Put Before Democrats For the Nomination

Davis, Simmons, Glass and Harrison Added to the List at Thursday's Session of the Convention.

CONVENTION WAITING ON PLATFORM REPORT

Night Session Being Held at Which the Resolutions Committee Is Expected to Announce the Result of Its Work.

Auditorium, San Francisco, July 1.—With fourteen candidates placed before it for the presidential nomination, the democratic national convention after a brief session to found the platform committee unable to make a report and adjourned until 8 o'clock tonight.

An attempt to suspend the rules of the committee and go ahead with the balloting was met with such obvious disapproval by the convention that it was not pressed.

The name of John W. Davis, American ambassador to Great Britain, wound up the list of names on the program for nominating speeches, but at the last minute the names of Senator Simmons, of North Carolina; Senator Glass, of Virginia; and Francis Burton Harrison, governor general of the Philippines, were added, and when the call of the states had been completed, the names of 14 men in all had been placed formally before the convention.

The platform committee continued working during the day hoping to harmonize the differences over the prohibition plank and the league of nations and the Irish question.

Delegates who were interested in the Irish question met in a conference soon after the adjournment of the convention to decide what would be done in pressing the claim for a platform plank declaring for recognition of the Irish republic.

Concentrated efforts were being made to bring to a close the platform committee when the convention reconvened at 8 o'clock, but there were no assurances that it would be ready then.

Today's brief first session was markedly quiet and orderly in comparison with the noisy and turbulent session of yesterday. No one would estimate the probability of tonight's session and there were no assurances that it might not continue until daylight.

Show Fight Expected. Galleries in the auditorium today filled early in the morning and the show fight in the democratic national convention on the platform issues, the delegates in the morning and at 11 o'clock, the hour set for resuming the session, the floor and galleries were filled with delegates and the crowd while things were waiting to be started up.

Best of the dancing Ambassador Davis in nomination, it was understood Senator Glass would be placed in nomination by Representative Flood, one of the Virginia delegates. So far as the convention officials had been advised only the resolutions committee was ready to report of the rules would be necessary if the convention were to proceed to balloting for a nominee before it passed on the platform.

Reminiscence of the happy singing carnival of the day which held the convention in its joyful grip for an hour, the band went back to some of the old-time hits and put the big audience in carnival spirit. The band master tried the sidewalks of New York, but the spirit was lacking and he got no response, but when he switched to his stock demonstration of the "Hallelujah" he drew the usual crop of yells.

Whole sections in the state space were still under the influence of the hall. The delegates who were present wanted to talk rather than come to order and Chairman Robinson had to do some vigorous and continued whacking with the gavel.

Why in the world should it take a man five minutes to sit down? he remarked to some of his assistants.

After sending the police through the aisles to clear them, the chairman got the delegates seated and Bishop Nichols, of the Episcopal diocese of San Francisco, offered a prayer, concluding by leading the convention in a recital of the Lord's Prayer.

Then the organ pealed off the "Star-Spangled Banner" and the convention was in the strains of the majestic air.

At the close of the singing, Judge McCracken, of San Francisco, took a place at the speaker's stand and read the statement of the "Irish Republic" while the great organ softly thrummed the melody of the martial air in accompaniment.

The judge recited the first stanza while the organ trembled out its melodious strains, and then coming to the chorus, turned his eyes to the far gallery where a clear-toned soprano rang out with the refrain, "Gloria, Gloria, Hallelujah."

Then the audience joined in the rolling chorus and the entire auditorium was filled to the very roof with the song. It was an impressive rendition which aroused the heart strings and aroused the fire of patriotism in every heart. At the conclusion of the convention continued the call of the roll of states for nominating speeches.

New Mexico, first on the call, was represented by a delegation of 14 members.

simply seconded the nomination of William G. McAdoo. It was the signal for a demonstration which started in the galleries and spread to the platform to place in nomination Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, and Senator Glass, of Virginia.

North Dakota passed and Oregon passed and the delegation "joined the movement to elect the Honorable William Gibbs McAdoo."

The McAdoo boomers, helped out by the band, made that the signal for another brief demonstration. Rhode Island passed, so did South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas, and Utah announced that it seconded the nomination.

Glass Is Named. Vermont passed, and Virginia Representative Flood to the platform to place in nomination Senator Glass, chairman of the resolutions committee.

Describing Glass as the "warm supporter and close political adviser of Woodrow Wilson," Mr. Flood said the nomination of Senator Glass was a monument to his ability.

Mr. Flood reviewed the career of Glass in the house of representatives, the treasury department, and finally in the senate, declaring that he offered the party the experience and the capacity of "a man whose patriotism was never waned and whose patriotism will never be questioned."

and passed, and West Virginia sent Governor Cornwell to the platform to nominate Senator Glass, ambassador to Great Britain.

Governor Cornwell told the convention that the nomination of Senator Glass was a contest to keep control of the government for the democratic party, and that he was ready to accept the plank on Ireland offered by the representatives of the Irish people gathered here.

The public record of Mr. Davis, Governor Cornwell said, assured that if nominated he would not be the candidate "of any class, any section or any group."

Mr. Davis, who before his marriage was Isabella Jewel, a stock exchange broker, was a funny story, which ran to the effect that while Mr. Davis was a stock exchange broker, the Creator took his brains to create woman. The men of the convention took the story and laughed heartily.

Women will select a man," she said, "and the man who stands the searchlight test and whose present life measures up to women's ideal."

"This man," said Mrs. Brown, "is not a preacher, although in his life he has been a preacher. He is a home-bred and a well-read American statesman."

He closed with a reference to the close relations between the president and the people, and the fact that during negotiation of the peace treaty the president had kept Mr. Davis in his confidence.

Plank, However, Is Adopted Expressing Sympathy With the Aspirations of Irish People.

FRIENDS OF IRELAND NOT AT ALL SATISFIED

They Assert That They Will Carry Their Fight to the Convention Floor. Irish Sympathizers Organize for Struggle.

San Francisco, July 1.—Under a plank adopted today by the platform committee, the democratic party would express sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people for self-government and pledge such action in the matter as would be consistent with international comity and usage.

The action was taken after a long debate during which the committee rejected the subcommittee plank proposing to leave the question to the league of nations and voted down the proposal for a plank pledging diplomatic recognition of the Irish republic.

William G. McAdoo, of Massachusetts, came out of the resolutions committee and addressed the caucus of Irish sympathizers.

"There is no secret about the fact that the committee had voted not to accept the plank on Ireland offered by the representatives of the Irish people gathered here," he said, "and that it has adopted a substitute."

Under the principle of self-determination voiced by President Wilson, he continued, he could continue to support efforts to get the convention to declare for recognition of Ireland. "The finest speech before the resolutions committee," he said, "was that of a Filipino who said the Philippine Islands wanted independence even though the United States could do more for them than they can do for themselves. When I left the committee they were discussing what America can do for the suffering population of Armenia."

Walsh Head in Secret. Frank P. Walsh, head of the American Commission for Irish Independence, was granted a hearing behind closed doors.

Mr. Walsh got before the committee at the request of a caucus of about 200 Irish sympathizers to the convention. He told the committee that the subcommittee plank proposing to leave the Irish question to the league of nations would be regarded by Irish-Americans as an evasion of the issue.

Mr. Walsh advocated a plank pledging the party to diplomatic recognition of the Irish republic. He declared he had been instructed by the Irish-American community to do so.

The governor's telegram was the first announcement from him of the Irish-American community to do so. It had been stated several days ago at the capital in Nashville that August 9, official call to be issued at an early date, and that subject would be included in the program.

The telegram was made public at headquarters of the woman's party. "I wish to thank you sincerely for your telegram in reference to the Irish-American community," he said, "and I have definitely announced that a special session of the party will be held on August 9, official call to be issued at an early date, and that subject would be included in the program."

Members of the committee who opposed the motion pointed out that Mr. Walsh already had presented his case in the committee's open hearings and that nothing was to be gained by taking time for its restatement.

The fight for Irish recognition in the committee was led by Senator Walsh, who was supported by a group of Irish-American delegates. The motion that he be allowed to make an argument was made by Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts.

The subcommittee's plank on Armenia also was rejected by the full committee. The plank is understood to have been drafted by the United States should consider it a duty to see that complete independence and order was guaranteed to the new Armenian republic.

The committee adopted, however, by an overwhelming vote a substitute plank offered by Senator Beckham, of Kentucky, expressing sympathy for the Armenian people and promising assistance in so far as it shall be considered possible and proper. The Beckham substitute carried forty votes with about a dozen reported in the negative.

Amusement Directory
THEATERS MOVIES

Lyric (Keith vaudeville): Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Guy Rawson and Frances Claire, musical comedy stars, in "Yodeling"; Tom Brown's songbook four, monologues of escapades; Jap, "the wise blond"; the Silverlakes, artists in midair; Burke, Walsh and Nana, comedians; Pathe News, Bray Pictorial, Topical Tips.

Grand (Low vaudeville): Thursday, Friday, Saturday, four shows Saturday. All-star bill. Jean Gordon players in an artistic musical. Highland Romance; Patsy Doyle, "The Sad Man," in humorous collection of songs and stories; Mary Hunt, the original "cheer-up" girl; Sargent brothers, harmony songsters and instrumentalists; Lieutenant Thelton and company in a big surprise act; Lee's feature picture "Camille of the Yukon," with all-star cast.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.) Performers who seem to have been able to get out of the beaten track are leaders on the bill at Loew's Grand the last half of the week and as a result the show itself opened Thursday afternoon. It proved to be one of the most enjoyable seen at this theater this season.

From the time the Sargent Brothers open with some close harmony until Lieutenant Thelton closes with his wonderful and startling sharpshooting act, merit fairly leaps out of the show. In addition, some new comedy produced in an attractive and winning manner is the original "cheer-up" girl, Miss Hunt is an original entertainer who has been here for several weeks. The Jean Gordon players, out-Harry Harry Lauder with Scotch comicallies and enliven their act with some musical numbers of real merit.

And good old Patsy Doyle, "the sad man," proves to be a ray of sunshine indeed with one of the funniest and wittiest monologues heard in these parts in some time. "Camille of the Yukon" proved to be a strong drama that holds interest throughout. In addition, Martin Johnson pictures of life in the South Sea Isles are shown.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Lyric.) After all, it's just a matter of personal opinion when it comes to vaudeville shows. For instance, the writer of these few lines didn't like the Sterling Saxophone Four, featured at Keith's Lyric the last half of this week.

However, to the contrary notwithstanding, apparently every other individual present at Thursday's shows did like the saxophone boys and like them very much. It is true they jazzed up the bill considerably and in justice to them it must be said that the applause greeting them was loud and long.

The Aerial Silverlakes, closing the bill, offer about the fastest, best and niftiest aerial act on record. Also the feminine member of the duo does not by any means offend the eye.

Guy Rawson and Frances Claire, well-known musical comedy stars are the announced headliner in a very clever comedy and musical turn, elaborately staged and thoroughly out of the ordinary.

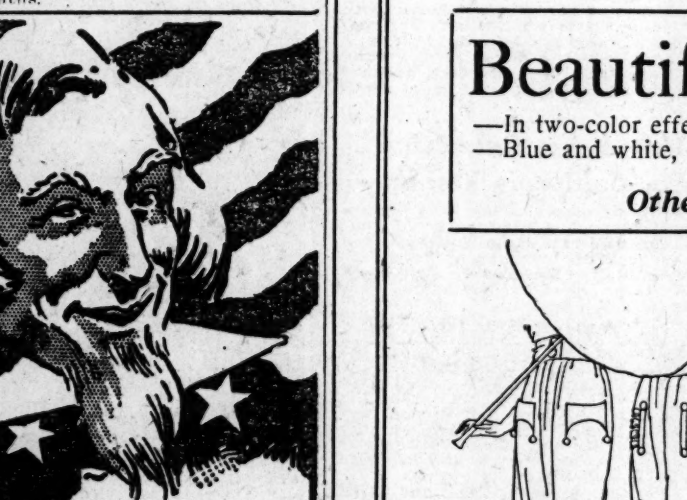

The second act is a fast dancing comedy turn by Burke, Walsh and Nana, two nimble-footed boys and a pretty girl. The opening act is Jap, the wise blond, who does some rather unusual tricks.

Completing the bill are the popular Pathe News, Topical Tips and Bray Pictorial.

NEGRO SLAYER GIVEN
TEN YEARS' SENTENCE

A verdict of guilty of assault with intent to murder was returned by the jury in the superior court Thursday morning against John Frazier, colored, charged with the murder of Claude Jameson, city detective on the night of June 5, when a colored gambler's house was raided. His punishment was fixed at ten years in the chain-gang. Attorney E. F. Childress, counsel for Frazier, stated that he had not decided about an appeal.

Nine other negroes who were arrested in the raid pleaded guilty of gambling and were sentenced by Judge Parker to terms of five or ten years in the chain-gang. Peter Jackson, in whose house the raid was conducted, and Mack Jones, who was accused of having a pistol, were both given twelve months.

Baby's Growth

As baby's growth, development and health all depend upon the feeding, the best of care should be used in supplying the proper food and seeing that both milk and bottles are properly sterilized.

Even with the best of care, baby is sometimes going to be upset and will require a little "physic." But remember, baby's little stomach is tender and delicate and should not be given strong and irritating drugs that cause bowel inflammation and chronic constipation.

In England, senna is the favorite laxative for children, and realizing that senna is the safest and most efficient—cathartic, an American baby specialist has compounded this ingredient with carminatives and produced an ideal baby laxative that is easy-acting, non-irritating, does not produce overaction nor leave baby constipated. This preparation is known as "Baby Ease" and is recommended for all bowel complaints of babies and children. Constipation, diarrhoea, sour stomach, gas, and during the teething period. Ask your druggist about "Baby Ease." It is a safe, harmless and efficient laxative and corrector. If baby does not improve after a few doses take him to a physician.—(adv.)

Mrs. Faleye Lethe May, the Atlanta woman who pleaded guilty in April to a federal court to charges of counterfeiting and was sentenced to two months' imprisonment, was pardoned Wednesday by President Wilson. It was announced in a telegram received at the office of the district attorney.

The pardon was secured through the efforts of Clyde Barr, of the Barr court apartments, who became interested in the woman after the news of her arrest. Barr, accounts of her arrest. When arrested before Commissioner W. Wright, Barr's first action was to drive to counterfeiting because of her husband's small salary, and this statement aroused the sympathy of Mrs. Barr, who went on a $1,000 bond for Mrs. May, thus securing her release.

DESERTION OF WIFE MADE MISDEMEANOR

Bill Introduced in Senate Requiring Licenses for Airplanes and Pilots.

Passage by a 23-to-13 vote of the bill introduced by Senator Allen, of the 35th, last summer, making it a misdemeanor for a man to willfully desert his wife and leave her destitute or to fail to provide for her support, featured the Thursday session of the senate. An amendment introduced by Senator Smith, of the seventh, was carried and makes the bill apply in cases where the desertion occurs on the part of the wife as well as the man.

Quite a lengthy discussion was precipitated upon passage of the measure. An objection was raised over the possibility of obtaining a conviction upon the lone testimony of the wife, and an amendment was passed calling for some testimony besides that of the wife before a conviction may be given. The measure was backed by the Associated Charities.

Senator Allen spoke in favor of his measure, stating that it would do much towards lessening the large number of cases of desertion which now make numerous appeals for aid to the various charitable organizations.

Senator Fred Keaf, of the 16th, made a long attack on the bill, declaring it to be exceedingly unjust. The bill by Senator Dorris, of the 48th, putting further limitations on the issuance of marriage licenses, which came up for passage Wednesday and carried over until Thursday as unfinished business, was passed by a 26-to-12 count. The measure requires applications for marriage licenses to be posted at the courthouse five days before the license is issued, and requires the license to be issued in a county in which one of the applicants resides. The measure is intended to put an end to the custom of hasty marriages, and, as Senator Allen stated, to prevent in all of the divorce courts in the state, Senator Allen.

A motion by Senator Blaisdell was passed to reconsider the action of the senate Wednesday in killing the bill to make warehouse receipts invalid after two years' time. Senator Blaisdell was the author of the bill and said he made his motion reconsider in order to amend the bill so as to make it apply only to the cases of lost receipts, in which form he stated it should and would pass.

The two bills introduced last session by Senator Parker, Waller and Shingler authorizing the issuance of bonds for the construction of portions of the state highway system came up for passage, but the motion of Senator H. H. Elders, of the second, was indefinitely postponed. Senator Elders stated he made this motion because the legislature had already passed legislation covering the same ground.

A bill was introduced by Senator Perrow Barrett, of the 31st, calling for the licensing of all airplanes in the state and their pilots. The bill defines an airplane as any kind of vehicle intended for use as a means of transportation of passengers or goods in the air. It makes it a misdemeanor to fly a plane for which a license has not been secured and provides that the license number shall be displayed on the plane in figures at least three feet high. A fee of five dollars is set for an airplane license and one of $25 for an aeronaut's, both of which must be secured annually.

The resolution introduced Wednesday by Senators Duncan and Razzadales indorsing the action of the Georgia convention in setting

"PORTABLE" GROCERY STORES ARE OPPOSED

Claiming that the action is detrimental to the best interests of the city, and that the city has no right to rent the streets, the Atlanta Retail Grocers' association has a protest with the mayor and general council against the granting of license permits to the so-called "portable" grocery stores.

The petition for a higher license fee for the portable stores asks that the amount should be made $100, the maximum, instead of $10. The petition further says that if the grocers must compete with other who pay absolutely no rent, they will be forced to eliminate all delivery service and credit. The petition was signed by President R. J. Barge, of the grocers' organization.

Bills Introduced in Senate Yesterday

The following bills were introduced in the senate Thursday:

By Senator Barrett, of the thirty-first—To provide for the issuance of licenses for all airplanes and aeronauts in the state.

By Senator Keigler, of the twelfth—To amend the school code so as to provide for the election of county boards of education by the people.

By Senator Allen, of the thirty-fifth—To amend the penal code so as to regulate the work to which female felony convicts shall be assigned.

OUR WOMEN VOTERS.

In taking action, some time ago, to discourage the registration of women preparatory to their participation in the forthcoming primary election, the Atlanta League of Women Voters made a mistake.

But in voting, last Wednesday, to reverse that action the league acted wisely and it is to be commended.

The women of this country, of Georgia and of Atlanta have been striving for years to attain the suffrage prerogative, and it seemed inconsistent and detrimental to "the cause" for a body of representative women of this city, banded together in a league of women "voters," to take a stand against exercising the voting privilege that the local executive committee had extended to them.

But it is a wise man, woman or organization that, seeing that a mistake has been made, recognizes and takes steps to correct it, as the league of women voters has done in this instance.

The women of Atlanta participated in the last primary election, and made friends for the suffrage movement by doing so.

There is no valid reason in the world why they should not participate in the next election—especially in view of the fact that their sisters of the whole country are about to become enfranchised on an equality with the male population, if not before the date of the Atlanta primary election of 1920, then certainly very soon afterward.

"THE WORLD GRINDS ON."

Of varying sights and scenes in an old home-town, The Walton (Ga.) News says:

"Wonderful age in which we live. Over our heads the aeroplanes glide on the wind. Underneath their wings broken-hearted loved ones bury their dead. Not far away the hell game is indulged and all about us the affairs of the world grind on. And this takes place in one community, the same afternoon."

It is indeed "the wonderful age," in which the unexpected rarely happens, in great things, and nothing seems miraculous!

The world is getting used to great things and, for all the achievement of past and present we know that the future holds greater still.

And with grief for its graves, in and under its glory, the great old world "grinds on."

"Every moment dies a man, Every moment one is born."

It's the "grinding on" principle that makes life worth while and the world the great place that it is to live in.

It doesn't forget its graves, or that there is a time for tears, but it can't rest weeping by world-waysides. The work is to do, and it's "Up and On"—forever!

And bravely—splendidly—that work is being done, in the humblest little home-town, as in the thronged cities. It is work with great heart and high hope.

And it's a young world yet, and only "In the morning of the times."

And but for the constantly shifting panorama—the "ups and downs" of things—it would be black and dead!

So the folks that go to make up the world—the grieving and the glorying—"keep living along" and helping others to live.

That's the beauty of it. "The world grinds on," and sometimes at such a pace it hasn't time to stop and count its blessings.

But the blessings are everywhere in evidence—as they have been since the world began. They are not less certain than death and taxes!

There are "grouch towns" a plenty; but even these might learn something from the old brother who said in the "experience" meeting, "The Lord's been afflictin' me right and left, here of late, but I glad I'm here still, with voice enough left to shout 'Amen' and 'Hallelujah!'"

Nothing like helping the world to "grind on!" and the steady grinders were never more in demand than now—the workers—the world-builders. Lots of room for them all in the great get-there world-plan; and honor and a world's thanks for the work they do!

TO PROMOTE GEORGIA.

Through its board of directors, in session at Macon a few days ago, the Georgia association issued an appeal for state-wide popular membership to enable it to carry to fulfillment its public-spirited and constructive program of state development activities.

This organization, formed and officered by substantial business and professional men representative of all parts and the most progressive sentiment of Georgia, is striving toward a single, definite and all-embracing objective: The development and improvement of Georgia as a whole.

And in the attainment of that purpose it needs and must have state-wide co-operation—the co-operation and whole-hearted support of every county, city, town, community, and of every citizen, of Georgia.

Its primary general program calls, among other things, for better schools, better rural home-life conditions, better health, better highways, better farming; better marketing facilities for the people of Georgia who are producers; development of the state's matchless hydro-electric power, water and rail transportation, and harbor facilities; and the development of our great mineral resources.

At the Macon meeting the directors took definite steps toward the promotion and support of a movement to establish a state forestry department, thus to conserve our state's valuable timber resources; the reclamation of Georgia's tremendous acreage of potentially valuable swamp land areas, which, drained, would be ideally adaptable for home-building purposes; the prosecution of the splendid campaign—already under way—for the eradication of malaria, etc.

The association is actively supporting activities, legislative and otherwise, looking to the improvement of educational conditions in Georgia; the promotion of the development of the state-wide system of good roads that has been planned by our state highway department; the encouragement of the live stock industry in Georgia, etc.

In a word, it is an all-Georgia, all-progressive organization that merits all-Georgia support.

A REMARKABLE VICTORY.

The outcome of the municipal bond election held in our neighborhood city of Decatur last Wednesday was a remarkable victory, not only in so far as the proposal itself was concerned, but also for the spirit of progress and civic enterprise that was at issue.

Out of a possible vote of 497, there were 365 votes cast for waterworks improvement bonds and 361 in favor of the issue of $100,000 bonds with which to start the construction of a modern and commodious high school building.

The remarkable feature of the election is that not a single vote was cast against either proposal!

Thus the voters of Decatur have given expression and tangible form to a spirit of progressiveness and constructive purpose of which every citizen of the city should feel proud.

Colonel George Bailey is reporting the convention, and he makes this side-note: "There is a movement on in Los Angeles to fight the high cost of living, the people not seeming to understand that voting the democratic ticket will do it."

Senator Harding seems to be getting dubious already as to the outcome in November. He has asserted that his campaign expenditures would be very light.

It is fitting that a national convention should be opened with prayer, because candidate-boosters are pretty much "on praying ground and pleading terms."

The Los Angeles earthquake saved the motion picture men the expense of staging one.

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

TEETH, TONSILS AND HEART—1.

GERMS HAVE WEAPONS.

We do certain individuals suffer the lifelong handicap of valvular heart disease? And why do most of these subjects of valvular heart disease maintain fairly good health and vitality throughout their life and eventually succumb to some illness in middle or old age?

The reason for the valvular disease in the beginning is, probably in more than two-thirds of the cases, the decay of the tonsils.

Decayed teeth, particularly the back teeth, are one of the commonest sources of infection.

The tonsils are physiologically a germ filter, equipped with a germ filter which produces decay of the teeth to be conveyed—mind, I do not say the germ filter is their own effort; germs never travel, they must be carried by something or someone from the outside.

Back teeth or from the infected gum around the back teeth to the tonsils, which are placed upon the surface of even healthy tonsils, the germs may then be conveyed into the openings or crypts of the tonsils, lodge in pockets there, undergo multiplication, and finally overcome the tonsil resistance.

Gain entrance to the lymph spaces or vessels surrounding the tonsils, and the germs of the pus-producing germ of the pus-producing germ of the heart infection do not have frank attacks of quinsy, and a few even deny having had attacks of quinsy, but tonsillitis or acute sore throat, notwithstanding the scars of these illnesses, the surgeon finds present in their tonsils.

For the germs to be conveyed into the blood stream from the lymph channels is a matter of time and chance. In the blood stream, as in the lymph spaces, of course the disease-producing germs are destroyed by the billions, so long as the individual retains even moderate resistance. But what would happen if the resistance for foul air, for overeating, for the lazy life, for congregating in crowded places, for taking cold, and the various other injurious things, it is no wonder that health becomes impaired, and the resistance diminished, so that one day enough of the germs survive to float down the blood stream to the heart.

There they are, where they are washed up against the heart lining and they cling there because they have acquired an affinity for the type of cells (endothelial) which line the heart.

Germanic bacilli, which line the heart, have an affinity for the lymph spaces, and it accounts for the frequency of or tendency toward attacks of so-called inflammatory rheumatism (acute multiple joint inflammation with fever) as a complication of or sequel to tonsillitis.

One of the germs be swept ashore upon a heart valve (covered with the same endothelial cell membrane as that which lines the heart and blood vessels, they produce insidious inflammation (necrosis), with subsequent scar tissue, which distorts the valve. The patient then has valvular disease or leakage.

Bits of New York Life

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

New York, July 1.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: They say another astounding dance mania is to sweep the world. Will there be enough of his sort in New York? Wonder how Henry Fielding would describe the fast set in this town. The "Nicks" are a host in the Claridge. Looks a little palid. Newspapers from all over the world and that fellow picked The London Times.

Smart young bloods wearing trousers flared at the bottom. Still soon is the proof of ignorance and the land of his story like this: "So this is Marion! Homegoing New Yorkers little realize that here in the far corner, the home of a potential president, there are no subways, elevated trains or skyscrapers. In a play in Marion remains only one night. There is very little night life."

And there you have the mental giant of the born and bred New Yorker on the outside world.

A fast subway express train was rushing through the darkness uptown. Suddenly a door swung open and two men were catapulted onto the adjoining tracks. In a few seconds a train coming from behind ground them to bits. It was of course, an accident, perhaps unavoidable. But the explanation of the company that the victims were drunk does not sit well with New York subway riding public.

Subway doors are opened automatically and by guards. Passengers cannot open them. To accuse the helpless victims of intoxication when they cannot defend the charge is at least bad taste.

A friend of mine is collecting a file of all the editions of a certain New York evening newspaper. "The New York Evening Post," he says, "is my trouble so far as that he has been unable to get the first seven initial editions."

A friend of mine is collecting a file of all the editions of a certain New York evening newspaper. "The New York Evening Post," he says, "is my trouble so far as that he has been unable to get the first seven initial editions."

A fast subway express train was rushing through the darkness uptown. Suddenly a door swung open and two men were catapulted onto the adjoining tracks. In a few seconds a train coming from behind ground them to bits. It was of course, an accident, perhaps unavoidable. Committee Votes Down
Biennial Sessions Bill,
But Minority Report
Will Be Made to House.

After a sharp debate, the house committee on constitutional amendments yesterday afternoon with a bare majority present voted to report adversely the bill of Representative Mundy, of Folk, providing for biennial sessions of the general assembly. As the advocates of the bill believe that a majority of the house and possibly the senate two-thirds favor the measure, a minority report will be submitted and effort made to bring the matter to a vote this year.

Mr. Mundy told the committee that only seven of the forty-eight states in the union had annual sessions, and that one of the states, Alabama, managed very satisfactorily with only one session every four years. He read letters from a number of governors to the effect that their states would not for a moment consent to annual sessions of the legislature. He said that he would accept an amendment making the sessions for sixty days every two years, if it was considered desirable.

Mr. Lindsey, of DeKalb, opposed the bill on the ground that we are passing through a critical period of change in our political and industrial system and that annual meetings of the lawmakers were needed to solve the difficult problems that were being presented each year.

Library Bill Favored.
A bill of Mr. Palmer, of Cripp, indorsed by the state library commission, which proposes to amend the constitution so as to allow counties to levy a tax for the support of libraries, was favorably reported with one dissenting vote. Mr. Palmer declared that the bill would not add a cent to the burdens of the counties unless the counties themselves wished to assume it, but they could not do so if a taxpayer raised an objection. The bill was amended to provide that the tax be levied on the support of a library, which seeks to amend the constitution so as to return to the counties the right of electing county officers biennially was approved. The law was changed only four years ago, giving the county officers four-year terms instead of two.

Another proposition of Mr. Owens, aimed last year at President Wilson, which provides that no person shall be eligible to the office of president unless his grandparents were born in this country was unanimously voted down. The members did not sympathize with the veiled attack on a great democratic president. Mr. Owens evidently did not, that it is not within the scope of a Georgia legislature to fix the qualifications for a candidate for president, which are specifically laid down in the United States constitution.

General "Judy" No. 1.
Several important measures were recommended by general judiciary committee No. 1, of which Mr. Smith, of Fulton, is chairman. They included the following:

BABY HEALTH CENTER
PLANS ARE DISCUSSED

Plans for broadened work locally in care and improvement of Atlanta children's health through the establishment of more baby health centers in various sections of Atlanta, were discussed Thursday afternoon at a conference of several prominent Atlanta physicians with Dr. Lydia Allen De Vilbiss, representative of the United States public health service, who is co-operating with state and city officials in the establishment of such centers.

Three baby health centers have already been opened in the city at the Moreland avenue public school, the Woman's club home on Peachtree street and at the clinic of the medical department of Emory university on Butler street. Dr. John P. Kennedy, city health officer, presided at the meeting, which was held in the committee room of the city hall.

The establishment of the baby health centers is not designed to benefit any particular class, it was explained. The centers are to be located in all parts of the city, where mothers may be examined and where they may secure expert advice on the care of their children.

Among the Atlanta physicians who attended the meeting were Dr. Marshall Anderson, Dr. W. C. McAliley, W. L. Funkhouser, Wood and Boynton.

GEORGIA AUTOMOTIVE DEALERS MEET HERE

The directors of the Georgia Automotive Dealers' association held an executive session yesterday morning at the association headquarters in the Southern Banking building, to discuss important business. President Maters presided at the meeting, which lasted several hours.

The directors of the association are: L. H. Dimmitt, Savannah; Joe Davis, Jr., Albany; T. M. Walden, Fitzgerald; W. T. Heard, Columbus; John Lottridge, Atlanta; J. P. Nichols, Jr., Griffin; W. H. Field, Cartersville; W. C. Denny, Athens; Ned Pendergrass, Jefferson; Lee Jordan, Milledgeville; Volney Williams, Waycross; W. E. Vann, Swainsboro; W. L. Mathers, Atlanta; D. M. Lyon, Augusta; A. S. Hatcher, Milledgeville; Tom Wisdom, Chipley; I. H. Lewis, Atlanta; R. H. Martin, Atlanta.

R. C. Dunlap, of Macon, the first president of the association, was also present at the meeting.

FINE THREE PARTIES TO ETERNAL TRIANGLE

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Story, of 143 Edgewood avenue, and Mrs. Lena Giametti, of 9 Garrett street, were fined $16 each by Judge Johnson Thursday for the scene created Wednesday night at the residence of the Hammock woman, where Mrs. Story found her husband.

Mrs. Story told the detectives that Mrs. Hammock disturbed her married life in Augusta, where Story is alleged to have become infatuated with her. They then came to Atlanta, and so did Mrs. Hammock.

Mrs. Story stated that her husband had sent her on visits from the city frequently, and that she became suspicious and returned Wednesday rather unexpectedly. She trailed her husband to the Garrett street address and her presence was known by the smashing of light bulbs, dishes and chairs.

WARNING IS GIVEN TO FOREIGNERS

Admiral Benson Says the United States Will Not Tolerate Interference With Merchant Marine.

Washington, July 1.—(By the Associated Press).—Warning foreign interests not to attempt interference with the development of the American merchant marine, Chairman Benson, of the shipping board, declared today that the board was determined to build up an American merchant marine as contemplated by the Jones shipping act, despite threats and propaganda by such interests to defeat the law.

"The United States," said Admiral Benson, "is in earnest in its efforts to place within the ownership by United States citizens the control of at least a part of its traffic in imports and exports. It should by any possible means be held that the departments of the government lack such authority as will insure their being able to protect American interests in such control, additional authority will be asked by the administration and it will undoubtedly be granted by congress."

"Foreign carriers and those in the United States interested more in foreign than American institutions will do well to let sleeping dogs lie."

Threats of Foreign Carriers.

Admiral Benson's warning was sounded in a talk to representatives of Pacific coast chambers of commerce and trade bodies and American railroads who have been disturbed by threats of foreign carriers to divert business from American ports on the Pacific coast because of the Jones shipping act, which permits a preferential rate over carriers within the United States on merchandise moving in export and import in American vessels.

Such a threat, the chairman said, is "futile and idle." "If such a threat is sincere and the attempt is made to carry it out," Admiral Benson continued, "the shipping board will all local carriers of their threat to business. The shipping board and the interstate commerce commission will follow this action by other means to protect the interests of the United States against such foreign efforts to defeat the purposes of the merchant marine act."

Nothing could more surely bring about the enforcement of this section of the law than adoption by foreign carriers of their threat to divert business from American ports.

This section is to be used only where there is an ample American tonnage to handle the export cargo where there is an ample American tonnage in a foreign country or a possession of the United States we cannot conceive how any one who has studied this law can as a matter of fact make any application of this section. There will certainly be no enforcement of the provision without concurrent action which will fully protect all American interests.

Commission Has Power.

"The transportation act has given the interstate commerce commission authority in 'emergency' to direct traffic or establish a route against movement of freights. It also has authority to establish minimum rates on any commodity moving subject to the interstate commerce act within the United States."

"The commission is aware of the necessity for preventing the diverting of traffic upon the roads of the United States such as would be accomplished by an effort by foreign carriers to divert export and import traffic now moving between Pacific coast ports of the United States and the Orient either to British Columbia or to ports of the Atlantic."

Admiral Benson said that at this time there seemed to have been specific and successful effort to prevent American vessels from securing returned cargoes at certain points, while ships of other nations have come with full loads. Application of the section of the merchant marine act prescribing preferential rates might be involved in such a case, which would require equal consideration in cargoes from such discriminating ports for United States vessels owned either by private citizens or by the shipping board.

Richard D. Stinson, Jr.

Richard D. Stinson, Jr., student of the Atlanta university, was taken sick Wednesday on the street and rushed to a hospital but died before medical attention could be given him. He was the only son of Rev. Richard D. Stinson, principal of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial institute. Rev. Stinson was on a business trip to Chicago when the death of his son occurred and funeral arrangements have been held up until his arrival. He is survived by his parents.

$215,354 INCREASE
IN POSTAL RECEIPTS

A new high-water mark for postal receipts at the Atlanta postoffice was reached during the fiscal year which ended Wednesday. It was revealed Thursday with the announcement by Postmaster Bolling Jones that receipts from July 1, 1919, to June 30, 1920, were $2,741,183, a gain of $215,354 over the previous year.

A gain of more than 100 per cent in receipts is shown for the seven years during Mr. Jones' tenure as postmaster. The figures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, the year in which Mr. Jones assumed the postmasterhip, were $1,527,829.

The increase in receipts for the year just ending over the previous year is very gratifying to the officials, especially when it is recalled that in the year 1918-1919, the postal receipts were $1,527,829, while in the year 1919-1920 letter postage was two cents and postal cards one cent.

ATLANTA ELKS GOING TO B. P. O. E. MEETING

On Sunday at 9 o'clock 100 Elks, members of Atlanta lodge, No. 78, will pull out from the Terminal station in a special train, bound for the Elks' National convention, which meets in Chicago this week. Joining the Atlanta Elks will be about twenty-five other members of the order from various cities and the south, some coming from Florida and from South Carolina, and others from Georgia cities.

At Nashville, Tenn., the special train will pick up four Pullman coaches with members of the Elks from the Tennessee capital. The route will be over the N. & W. and will be one of the largest special trains to pull into Chicago for the week's festivities.

The train will bear big streamers, Atlanta B. P. O. E. and the Elks' band of Atlanta, will entertain things en route with its music. Several weeks ago the local order started a fund-raising drive from which it realized about $4,500, and this was raised, and is being used, to take the band of 35 pieces to Chicago.

In addition the Elks' quartet and pianist—Messrs. McGowan, Frank, Bishop, Maurer and Bateman—will be taken along, and the entertainment committee of the Chicago lodge has wired the local order that they will be used on a number of occasions during the week. The band, under the direction of Clint Barber, is to be entered in contests for prizes, and while there will be a great number of excellent Elks' bands in the "windy city," it is confidently believed that the Atlanta band will be able to "cop" some of the prizes—if not the grand prize of $500.

MRS. O'HARE TO SPEAK TO LOCAL SOCIALISTS

Mrs. Kate O'Hare, nationally known leader in the socialist party, who was convicted for violating the anti-sedition laws, and who was recently granted a pardon by President Wilson, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight in the Red Men's Wigwam.

O'Hare says she intends to visit Eugene Debs, who was recently nominated for presidency on the socialist ticket, and who is now serving a sentence of ten years' imprisonment at the Atlanta federal penitentiary for the same offense charged to Mrs. O'Hare.

COUNTY ASKED TO AID IN PAVING PROGRAM

The Fulton county commissioners will be asked for financial aid in grading and paving North avenue from Marietta street to Madison park, a committee having been appointed for that purpose at a meeting Thursday night of the Fifth Ward improvement club. Other matters of importance to the ward were discussed. The meeting was held in the English Avenue school. The next meeting of the club will be held at a committee having been appointed for that purpose at a meeting Thursday night of the Fifth Ward improvement club.

Stolen Auto Found.

City Detectives E. D. Meek and J. T. Malcomb are looking for the owner of a touring car they captured Thursday on Madison avenue, and on which they state motor numbers have been changed by the use of a file. The machine is a 1917 model with gray seat covers. When seized by the officers it contained a quantity of contractors' and carpenter's tools, and a considerable number of squares of Elms. Among the tools was a set of dies, which officers state they have confident have been used for the purpose of mutilating and changing numbers of automobiles.

SOCIETY GIRL DIES WHILE STEERING HER AUTOMOBILE

Newark, N. J., July 1.—Miss Catherine Van Ness, society girl and prominent member of the "millionaire colony" at Hutton Park, West Orange, died at the steering wheel of her automobile here today after driving about the city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Van Ness. She became faint and turned the car into the curb, stopping the motor. Then she leaped on the wheel and lost consciousness.

Miss Van Ness was to have been married in September to John McCallie, a member of a prominent family of Morristown.

DINNER TO EMPLOYEES

One of the most delightful little affairs of the season was the dinner given last evening in the pine room of the National Shirts Shops, Inc., to the employees of the local house of the National Shirts Shops, Inc., to all the men and their wives who make up the Atlanta organization. The occasion was purely informal, and was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the Atlanta workers for this large organization. A number of short addresses were made, and a toast drunk to the host of the evening.

The National Shirts Shops, Inc., has been in operation in Atlanta for the past three years. More than eighty similar shops are operated in various parts of the United States, and it is one of the best-known commercial houses of its kind in the country. The Atlanta branch has been unusually successful, so much so that it has recently been necessary to lease a new location on Peachtree, a place far from its present site. Within a short time it expects to be located in its new home.

DISCIPLINE IN STORE FOR ADMIRAL DECKER

Washington, July 1.—Action probably will be taken by the navy department within twenty-four hours in the matter of Rear Admiral Benson C. Decker's recent attack on Secretary Daniels and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, it was said today by Acting Secretary of the Navy Counts.

Admiral Counts declined to indicate what action he expected to be taken, but said the matter had been referred to Secretary Daniels, who is attending the democratic national convention at San Francisco.

A reply from Mr. Daniels within twenty-four hours is expected, Admiral Counts said.

"I have not acted on my own responsibility in regard to Rear Admiral Decker's letters," declared Admiral Counts, "because many of his charges against the secretary and Mr. Roosevelt were personal. For that reason, I believed it to be the proper course to put the matter up to them."

Admiral Decker, who is now commandant of the Seventh naval district, with headquarters at Key West, Fla., in a recently published letter to Chairman Hale, of the senate naval committee, charged Secretary Daniels with having "intentionally and deliberately" misrepresented certain facts in his testimony before the senate committee and alleged that the secretary and Mr. Roosevelt were sacrificing the efficiency of the navy for political ends.

The bill was amended to provide that the tax be levied on the support of a library, which seeks to amend the constitution so as to return to the counties the right of electing county officers biennially was approved. The law was changed only four years ago, giving the county officers four-year terms instead of two.

Another proposition of Mr. Owens, aimed last year at President Wilson, which provides that no person shall be eligible to the office of president unless his grandparents were born in this country was unanimously voted down. The members did not sympathize with the veiled attack on a great democratic president. Mr. Owens evidently did not, that it is not within the scope of a Georgia legislature to fix the qualifications for a candidate for president, which are specifically laid down in the United States constitution.

General "Judy" No. 1.
Several important measures were recommended by general judiciary committee No. 1, of which Mr. Smith, of Fulton, is chairman. They included the following:

BABY HEALTH CENTER
PLANS ARE DISCUSSED

Plans for broadened work locally in care and improvement of Atlanta children's health through the establishment of more baby health centers in various sections of Atlanta, were discussed Thursday afternoon at a conference of several prominent Atlanta physicians with Dr. Lydia Allen De Vilbiss, representative of the United States public health service, who is co-operating with state and city officials in the establishment of such centers.

Three baby health centers have already been opened in the city at the Moreland avenue public school, the Woman's club home on Peachtree street and at the clinic of the medical department of Emory university on Butler street. Dr. John P. Kennedy, city health officer, presided at the meeting, which was held in the committee room of the city hall.

The establishment of the baby health centers is not designed to benefit any particular class, it was explained. The centers are to be located in all parts of the city, where mothers may be examined and where they may secure expert advice on the care of their children.

Among the Atlanta physicians who attended the meeting were Dr. Marshall Anderson, Dr. W. C. McAliley, W. L. Funkhouser, Wood and Boynton.

JOHNNY WILSON DEFENDS TITLE
Newark, N. J., July 1.—Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion of the world, won a newspaper decision in his twelve-round bout tonight with Soldier Bartfield here. He outpointed the contender at all times, and while sporting authorities declared his showing was good, they saw nothing spectacular in it. This was Wilson's first effort in metropolitan circles since he won the championship, and the ringside agreed that the most spectacular part of the bout was the $7,500 guaranteed he champion.

Thomson Beat Elberton.
Elberton, Ga., July 1.—(Special.) Thomson defeated Elberton here today by a score of 7 to 1. William Elberton, who was hit freely by Thomson, showed absolutely no life during the contest. Donaldson, new out-fighter for the locals, played his first game and showed up well. Batteries—Thomson and E. Rawson; Elberton and Higgins. Umpire, Amis.

Joe Thorburn Beaten.

Cochran pitched a great game for Winder, giving up only three bingles and was never in danger from the first inning.

J. THORBURN JOINS LIST OF JUMPERS

Joe Thorburn, the first pitcher to twirl a no-hit game in the southern league this season and a member of the local club since the beginning of the 1919 season, executed a well-known dance of the kangaroo yesterday morning, his jump carrying him in the direction of Washington, Ga., one of the cities of the "Million-Dollar league," where princely salaries are being paid the semi-professional players. Chatterbox also lost the services of Alva Hall, who is said to be headed for the Delta (Mississippi-Louisiana) league, another of the outlaw organizations.

Thorburn's act came as a distinct surprise to his former comrades on the Atlanta team, although there has been a persistent rumor that he was being sought by one of the clubs in the North Georgia league. It was thought at first that Bob Higgins, pilot of the Winder club, had approached Joe with a tempting proposition, but this was later denied.

Thorburn will be barred from organized baseball for the full five years—outlined in recent bulletins from national headquarters—was the statement made last night by officials of the Atlanta club.

"Thorburn was not going in especially good form," one of the local magnates declared. "But his loss will be felt by the Atlanta team. Joe started off like a million dollars and he looked good for the best part of his career, but he developed a streak of indifference some time ago, and it has affected his work. We believe he would have rounded into fairly good form and might have delivered several more good performances."

Harass and Motor Races For Holiday

Lakewood park, the most momentous in the history of this amusement center. The races, according to R. M. Striplin, secretary of the Southeastern Fair association, under whose auspices the races are being held, will have everything that has taken place on this course, with the lone exception of the Grand Circuit.

Further interest will be added by the motorcycle races. These daredevils have already begun to try out their motorized mounts and preliminary data favors a world of excitement.

Numerous events, including harness racing and motorcycle speed contests, will make the independence day celebrations this year at Lakewood park.
